EDITOR'S NOTE

A Big Year Ahead!

A new year, a new lineup and lots of entertainment to brighten your days are ahead. Clearly, we all should give a shout-out of thanks to the networks and streaming services that delivered over 300 new series this past year, despite all the pandemic challenges. For many of us, our TV was our sole form of entertainment as we continued to hunker down in our homes. It's honestly amazing that we kick off the year with the quality and volume of new series and seasons that we have this month.

Let's all channel some positivity as we look to the year ahead and do our best to spread peace, kindness and empathy to those we encounter. As always, we look forward to helping you find what's new and what's good to watch on TV in 2022! Happy New Year!

UPDATES!!!

- DIY Network officially changes to Magnolia Network on Jan. 5 at 7pmET (see page 12). Please note that your daily TV listings have been updated to reflect this.
- NBC Sports Network (NBCSN) officially goes dark on Dec. 31 and has been removed from the publication (see page 26).
- The USPS continues to struggle with mail delivery. We have moved our print dates back in 2022 to help, so please be patient.

Happy viewing!

■ Where Have I Seen "Ghosts" Before?

I've been hearing about the "new" TV show Ghosts. I remember a show titled Topper many years ago with the same idea. Mr. Topper and his wife were in a house (they were middle-aged), and Topper (Leo G. Carroll) was the only one who could see the ghosts of a young married couple. It was an enjoyable show. Am I correct: Did this show exist? Topper was never mentioned when the new show Ghosts started (although Topper only had two ghosts, not the variety of the present show). — Doreen

Your memory is fine. "Ghosts," which itself is adapted from a British series, is the latest in a long line of comedies involving spirits not everyone can see. "Topper," which aired on CBS from 1953-55, was based on a novel and a series of 1930s movies, originally starring Cary Grant as one of the ghosts. (A very short-lived 1989 remake on NBC, titled "Nearly Departed," starred Monty Python's Eric Idle.) The device was used in Noël Coward's classic "Blithe Spirit" on stage and screen, and I remember a similar premise in the more romantic 1968-70 sitcom "The Ghost & Mrs. Muir." There are doubtless others. So while the idea may not be new, it is durable. We are thrilled that CBS gave "Ghosts" (with "iZombie's" Rose McIver and Utkarsh Ambudkar as the owners of the haunted house) an early full-season renewal. It's a keeper.

■ Cable Movies In Movie Section?

Will you please stop putting made-for-TV films in the movie section? These are not real films. Now if Hallmark, Up or Lifetime premiere a movie then list it, but putting all of the made-for-TV movies in the index is taking room that could be used for real movies. Every movie released in a theater should be in the movie index. TCM is the only non-premium channel that plays movies without commercials, yet there are several TCM movies missing every month. Also, remove the Letterbox icon from the index. — Jerome

Wow, that's a loaded request. We try to list all movies — network originals, theatricals, premieres, classics — in the movie description section to serve everyone's interests. For example, you may not care about all of these network original films, but many others do and want to know what the film is about, who stars in it, and air dates and times. If you don't find a description for a TCM movie, chances are we hand-cut that movie title into the daily programming listings at the last minute due to a network update. Appreciate you writing — we're sending you a free copy of our sister publication "ReMIND."

■ Why Only Air A Movie Once?

Perhaps you can shed some insight on why some brand-new movies only play once — The Prodigy (2019) on AMC and The Curse of La Llorona (2019) on TNT. Instead, the networks would rather bore us to death with endless hours of A Nightmare on Elm Street and Friday the 13th movies, which are all great, but these films get played dozens of times weekly. — Mark

Cable networks will air reliable classics from the 1980s and 1990s, as they know these films deliver viewers. They also position popular movies in front of original content to help boost ratings. FX is probably the best network when it comes to locking up the TV rights *for newer films. When it comes to purchasing movie rights, there are all sorts of restrictions that go into that, including the number of airings, wait time until a cable network can first air the title, number of networks that can purchase the title during a select time frame, etc. As for the specifically mentioned titles, we assume the networks only had rights to air the title once. We did reach out to both networks but neither provided rationale, but we will continue to pursue an answer if they will re-air. We're sending you a free copy of our sister publication "ReMIND," too.*

What's Your Jam?

If you like the often wacky but always entertaining games Jimmy Fallon plays on The Tonight Show, you'll love That's My Jam (Mondays beginning Jan. 3 on NBC), a new show inspired by those popular games. In this iteration, two teams of two celebrities go against each other for the charity of their choice in a series of music, dance and trivia-based games. You'll see plenty of NBC familiars from Blake Shelton and Ariana Grande teaming up against Kelly Clarkson and John Legend to Terry Crews, Anthony Anderson and a slew of others. The series is hosted by Fallon and promises an array of crazy games like "Air Guitar," "Wheel of Impossible Karaoke," "The Vinyl Countdown" and "Slay It, Don't Spray It." Could you name artists who have an animal in their name? (The Beatles, Snoop Dogg) Or artists with names that sound like things in your house? (The Doors, MC Hammer) We think Shelton said it best when he rattled off something like, "Really, this is what it's come to — this show is on TV!" Yes, Blake, it is, and we couldn't be happier.

Gordon Ramsay Takes It To A New Level

Superchef Gordon Ramsay returns to FOX with a brand-new cooking competition that will reach new heights — three stories, to be exact. Next Level Chef (premiering Sunday, Jan. 2, and then airing Wednesdays) is set on a stage with three distinct floors, each bringing different ingredients and a different environment for the 15 contestants to cook in. Joining Ramsay as co-mentors are star chefs Nyeshia Arrington and Richard Blais, who will each guide a group of the chefs as they ascend through the culinary gauntlet. The participants range from line cooks to food truck owners and home chefs to social media influencers, all vying for a $250,000 grand prize.

TUNED IN TO YOU

Make It A Binge-Watch

You Don't Need A Streaming Service To Binge-Watch A Series.

Everyone's always buzzing about the next series to "binge-watch," a traditional phrase TV viewers use that basically means you are watching back-to-back-to-back episodes, and then some, of a particular TV show. With DISH, after watching a recording from your latest obsession, you'll have the option to watch one of the next or previous episodes of the same program when available in your recordings, Subscription On Demand content or if watching on Netflix.

When watching On Demand content, if the next episode in the series is available, your Hopper will automatically prepare that episode to play next. If you don't want to go to the next episode just yet, you can select Cancel.

Quick Tips To Binge

1. To access Free On Demand content, say "On Demand" into your Voice Remote or tune to Channel 300 to access thousands of On Demand movies and shows. You can also go to Menu > On Demand and select the title or network you wish to access.
2. Once in the On Demand menu, browse through a category that interests you. Some of the more popular are Shows Recommended For You and Most Watched TV Shows. Or just search to find the program you are looking to binge.
3. Let's use the delightful new series Ghosts for an example. You can start with Episode 1 and catch up to the latest episode that has aired. If you are looking for a longer binge, History's The Curse of Oak Island has the last nine seasons available On Demand. Other networks vary in how far back you can access episodes. Paramount Network makes only Season 4 episodes of Yellowstone available via On Demand.
4. You can also record series and save to binge-watch later.

5 QUESTIONS

WITH WILL ESTES OF CBS' "BLUE BLOODS"

By Jacqueline Cutler

After Will Estes' first season in the NYPD uniform for Blue Bloods, he used the summer hiatus from the popular CBS Friday night drama to outfit his Los Angeles home with solar panels.

Nearly 12 years later, he's completed the switch to solar at his houses in Los Angeles and New York, and drives an electric car. As he's learned more about being a steward of the planet, Estes has also been learning from some of the best in show business.

Playing Jamie, the youngest member of the Reagan NYPD dynasty, Estes works with TV and Broadway legends. His character's father (Tom Selleck) is the police commissioner, and his grandfather (Len Cariou) retired from that job. His brother (Donnie Wahlberg) is a hotheaded detective, and his sister (Bridget Moynahan) is an assistant district attorney.

"I really feel blessed that I am surrounded by some greats," Estes says. "Donnie is at Mach 5, and he operates so quickly — he is the engine of the show, and you better keep up."

As for the show's lead, Selleck, Estes says, "I have just learned tricks of the trade from Tom inside and out. He does not want to do a lot of takes, and we don't need to cover it for days. It is because they are professionals."

If Estes has his wish, Blue Bloods will run "till the end of days. I don't think anybody expected 12 seasons in the beginning. But here we are, and I think this season we have made great episodes. I think there are stories to be told as long as the powers that be on this show keep doing it."

Here Estes answers our 5 Questions:

1 Do you eat the food in the Sunday dinner featured on each episode?

I eat some of it, as much as I can. If I go to the starch and meat, I would be under the table.

2 Tell us about a time you were starstruck.

It's happened a few times. One was Tom Selleck. When he walks into a room, everyone notices. He is and has the presence of a movie star. We also had the really incredible day we had a producer come in and say we are going to stop shooting family dinner. This was a few years ago. [The producer told us,] "You can take pictures when they are here. All we ask is you don't post anything until 20 to 30 minutes after they leave." And we are sitting around the family dinner and in walks Bill Clinton. He is a huge fan of the show. He put his hand on my shoulder and said how some of his favorite scenes were between my character and Tom's. He is one of the most magnetic people I have ever met. Everyone wanted to hear what he would say.

3 What three foods do you keep in stock?

Cultured vegetables, avocado and eggs.

4 What three shows did you watch when you were a kid?

Star Trek: The Next Generation, The Simpsons and I used to stay up late and watch Johnny Carson.

5 What categories would you run on Jeopardy!?

I was on Celebrity Jeopardy! with Linda Park and Brad Paisley. I was just good at pushing the button. My family was blown away that I won. Let's get one thing straight — Brad was definitely beating me, but he didn't bet all of his money, and I think he got more right than I did. Movies from the '80s and '90s would be my easiest category. Food. I am into health foods, so anything culinary I might be able to pull out. I grew up in L.A., so anything related to Angeleno culture.

MAGNOLIA NETWORK IS HERE!

Chip And Joanna Gaines, The “Fixer Upper” Superstars, Expand Their Empire. By Jeff Pfeiffer

Magnolia Network, the home-and-lifestyle channel that is a joint media venture between Discovery and Fixer Upper stars Chip and Joanna Gaines, has been streaming programming on discovery+ since last July. Now, the wait for that content’s arrival on traditional TV is finally over: Effective Wednesday, Jan. 5, at 7pmET, the existing DIY Network will officially rebrand to Magnolia Network (on Channel 111), kicking its programming off with the linear premiere of the Gaineses’ newest series, Fixer Upper: Welcome Home.

“It is our ongoing desire to create a space, whether in a streaming environment or on linear television, where people who watch a show on our network leave feeling like it was time well spent,” the Gaineses say.

Viewers who currently receive DIY Network as part of their programming lineup will automatically have access to Magnolia Network starting Jan. 5. The network’s lineup covers home, design, do-it-yourself, food, cooking, gardening and real-life journeys.

MEET MAGNOLIA'S NEWEST STARS: CANDIS AND ANDY MEREDITH OF "HOME WORK"

Prior to launching Magnolia Network, Chip and Joanna Gaines helped popularize the concept of the home-renovation power couple. Since Magnolia's streaming debut on discovery+ last July, viewers have been enchanted by the latest such duo, Candis and Andy Meredith. The Merediths' series Home Work makes its Magnolia Network linear debut Jan. 8 (airing Saturdays at 9pm) and follows them as they transform a 20,000-square-foot historic school into their home while juggling client projects, rental properties and life with their blended family of nine (they have seven children).

Candis has loved houses since she was a 3-year-old watching her grandpa build her playhouse. She started renovating on her own at 16 and bought her first historic home to renovate at 21. When the couple got married, Candis had seven historic remodels happening at once and asked Andy to "retire" from his longtime high-level tech sales job and come work for her, where he discovered that this was his passion.

We chatted with Candis and Andy ahead of Home Work's linear premiere and, like on their show, they worked as a team for joint answers to questions about their series and life.

What has been the fan reaction to Home Work?

We have been completely overwhelmed by the amount of love for the show! We've received thousands of very kind messages about how calming it feels and how it makes people feel happy.

Are you excited for your show to reach a linear audience?

We talk about it every day, that a linear audience will see what we've made. ... We've always wanted to share our love for what we do — old houses, antiques, DIY projects, our love for our family — but to share it on such a big scale is such an honor.

What other shows on Magnolia Network inspire you?

We are obsessed with the shows on Magnolia Network. ... They are all so truly inspiring. We love Lindsey Kurowski's grit on Inn the Works, Brian Patrick Flynn's approach to design on Mind for Design, deVOL's timeless kitchens on For the Love of Kitchens. Jamila [Norman], Elizabeth [Poett], Jonathan [Morris], Clint [Harp], Erin [French], Chip and Joanna, Abner and Amanda [Ramirez], Brooke and Brice [Gilliam], Zoë [François], Andrew [Zimmern], Brett [Lewis] — the list of [Magnolia hosts] we admire is endless!

THE TOP 24

NEW SHOWS TO START THE NEW YEAR!

1 THE GILDED AGE

Mondays beginning Jan. 24 on HBO
Stream On: HBO Max
NEW SERIES!

Imagine a time in American history when rich white people discriminated against other rich white people for being the wrong kind of rich white people.

From Downton Abbey creator Julian Fellowes comes The Gilded Age, a period drama set in 1882 New York City, where new technological advances, new ideas and new money are challenging the established social order.

Young Pennsylvania woman Marian Brook (Louisa Jacobson) is left penniless following her father's death, and she seeks help from the only family she has: crusty upper-crust aunts Agnes van Rhijn (Christine Baranski) and Ada Brook (Cynthia Nixon) in New York. Marian moves in with her aunts and finds herself thrust into the social sphere of old money and its nearly impenetrable caste system.

Marian befriends Peggy Scott (Denée Benton), a talented Black writer from Brooklyn, who is hired by Aunt Agnes to help her catch up on her correspondences. Peggy's presence complicates the social strata within the house, fueling resentment among some who do not want her there.

Across the street from Marian's aunts' manor, George (Morgan Spector) and Bertha Russell (Carrie Coon), who've made a fortune in the railroads, have built a lavish mansion. Bertha is desperate to be accepted by the old guard, but they humiliatingly spurn her. As architect Stanford White (John Sanders) explains, "They have been in charge since the Mayflower landed and now it's your turn. Because you are the future. And if you are the future, then they must be the past. That's what frightens them." Unable to join them, Bertha makes it her mission to destroy them.

And in true Fellowes fashion, The Gilded Age is teeming with intrigue for the housekeepers and servants to murmur about. — Ryan A. Berenz

THE CLEANING LADY

Mondays beginning Jan. 3 on FOX
NEW SERIES!

"When I got this part, my husband looked at me like, 'Really? You are going to be the cleaning lady?'" I could show you a picture of the room I'm staying in right now," laughs Élodie Yung, fully admitting cleaning isn't her thing. But traditional cleaning is not what this role is all about.

Yung stars as Thony, a Cambodian surgeon who comes to the U.S. to pursue a lifesaving medical treatment for her young son. Originally here on a medical visa, complications arise and she is forced to stay as an undocumented immigrant, where she makes ends meet living and working with her sister-in-law (Martha Millan) as a cleaning lady.

"She's facing a horrible decision: Do I go back home and then that's it? There's no chance for my son to get any cure? Or do I overstay my visa and make the choice of being undocumented and potentially find a cure for my son?" Yung explains. That backstory, however, is just one of her problems.

"Things go wrong when she's cleaning and witnesses a murder committed by the mob," Yung tells. "She's just constantly forced to make instant, horrible choices." From there she begins to live a double life, working for the handsome Arman (Adan Canto), who is one of the leaders of a crime syndicate, and doing whatever it takes to save her son. Thankfully, her savvy smarts — she does a wicked makeshift tracheotomy with a pen — yield her some power.

"When I played Elektra [in the Marvel series Daredevil and The Defenders] I had to be very physical," Yung says when comparing her characters' resilience. "For Thony it's a horrific, emotional journey that she's going through, but there's nothing physical in this part, which I am kind of very happy with. I've done it. It's been fun. But let me play with other tools. I have been really praying for a part like this, where I could really express what I have in my heart. And I do feel that Thony has given me the opportunity to really express my feelings, my emotions. And my truth."

And truth be told, this is the new series to add to your must-watch list this winter. — Barb Oates

5 RAY DONOVAN: THE MOVIE

Friday, Jan. 14 on SHOWTIME
ORIGINAL FILM!

Fans and showrunner David Hollander were in shock when Showtime's Ray Donovan was canceled with no advance warning after its seventh season. Season 8 was supposed to be the final season, and Hollander already had it planned out. Instead, this feature-length film will conclude the storyline. It picks up where Season 7 left off. "I let the wolf in," Ray (Liev Schreiber) tells his therapist, after confessing he's done something bad. Ray is trying to find Mickey (Jon Voight) before he causes more carnage. The present-day fallout from the Donovan/Sullivan feud and Ray and Mickey's origin story will also be explored. We learn there's a reason Mickey is the way he is — he was raised in a whorehouse and beaten every day. But in both Ray and Mickey's case, you can't outrun your legacy. Gary Levine, president of entertainment for Showtime Networks, assured fans upset about the abrupt cancellation that their concerns have been heard and that this movie gives the series a more graceful landing.

WOMEN OF THE MOVEMENT

Thursdays, Jan. 6, 13 & 20 on ABC

NEW SERIES!

During this month in which we celebrate the birth and influence of Martin Luther King Jr., one of the most iconic civil rights leaders in American history, ABC will also premiere Women of the Movement, a limited series that explores the influence of a notable woman who played an earlier key role in igniting the civil rights movement as we know it today – Mamie Till-Mobley.

Tony-winning actress Adrienne Warren portrays Mamie in the six-episode historical drama that airs over three consecutive Thursdays (two hours air each of the first two nights, with the final evening encompassing a two-and-a-half-hour block). It chronicles the true story of how, in 1955, Mamie risked her life to find justice after her son Emmett (Cedric Joe) was brutally murdered in the Jim Crow South. Unwilling to let Emmett's murder disappear from the headlines, Mamie chose to bear her pain on the world's stage, emerging as an activist for justice.

Following each episode of Women of the Movement will be an installment of a companion docuseries from ABC News called Let the World See. It features interviews with Emmett Till's family and contemporary voices as it draws a through line from past to present.

8 SECRETS OF PLAYBOY

Mondays beginning Jan. 24 on A&E

NEW SERIES!

For well over 50 years, Hugh Hefner kept a tight rein on the empire he launched with Playboy magazine. Now, four years after his death, this 10-hour docuseries explores the hidden truths behind the glamorous mythology of that famous brand through a modern-day lens.

Secrets of Playboy focuses that lens by using archival footage and exclusive interviews with members of Hefner's inner circle, some of Hef's past girlfriends, former Playmates, colleagues, executives and employees. Many of these interviewees are sharing their stories for the first time, ready to relate the full story of what life at Playboy was truly like.

"We look at all divisions of Playboy," says executive producer/showrunner/director Alexandra Dean, "and each episode actually looks at a different part of Playboy."

The series explores how the powerful Playboy machine, at its worst, manipulated women in a toxic environment, silenced their voices, pitted them against one another and opened the door to sexual predators.

7 PROMISED LAND

Mondays beginning Jan. 24 on ABC

NEW SERIES!

Promised Land promises to be engrossing, epic television, centering on generations of two Latino families fighting for wealth and power in California's Sonoma Valley. Leading the pack is Joe Sandoval (John Ortiz), the patriarch of one family who took over a small vineyard and made it into a wine empire. Joining him is his wife, Lettie (Cecilia Suárez), who will do anything to protect her family. Also starring is Bellamy Young as a nemesis of Joe's.

MONARCH

Premieres Sunday, Jan. 30;
airs Tuesdays beginning Feb. 1 on FOX

NEW SERIES!

The dark side of country music is coming out. FOX's new drama Monarch follows the first family of country music in an epic tale of lies and betrayal. The matriarch and patriarch of this family, the Romans, are Dottie (played by Susan Sarandon) and Albie (portrayed by country music star Trace Adkins). Together, the duo have created a dynasty, but now it's on shaky ground. Their daughter, Nicky (Anna Friel), is ready to do everything she can to protect her family's musical reign as well as navigate her own growing career.

"Everybody has secrets. Everybody has agendas," explained Adkins. Having been in the industry for 25 years – his anniversary album came out earlier this year – Adkins has had a front-row seat to country music. His character is described as the "Texas truth-teller," but even that appears to be a lie. "He has as many secrets as anybody does, but that's just been the moniker that he's portrayed himself as, this old-school OG truth-teller in his music. And so, that's just been kind of the handle that he's gone by, but don't take it literally."

So how close does the show actually echo the country music world? Well, according to Adkins, it's closer than you'd think. "They have people that are consulting on this show that have pretty good insight about how things work and just what the underbelly actually looks like. So it's kind of startling sometimes how close they actually get."

11 PIVOTING

Premieres Sunday, Jan. 9;
airs Thursdays beginning Jan. 13 on FOX
NEW SERIES!

Pivoting showrunner Liz Astrof had a profound moment at age 40 when her childhood friend died of cancer. "At the funeral, I was struck by the realization that not only am I mortal, I am also not 22 anymore! I don't have my whole life ahead of me!" Astrof says. "Is this where I dreamed I'd be at ... 40? Am I happy? Is anyone happy? What is happy? And is it too late to do it all differently? To press the 'reset' button?" Out of that experience, Astrof crafted this comedy about three longtime friends – Sarah (Maggie Q), Jodie (Ginnifer Goodwin) and Amy (Eliza Coupe) – who cope with the death of the fourth member of their group by radically changing their lives. Career-driven Amy pivots toward being a present mom. Stressed-out physician Sarah pivots toward a grocery store job. And neglected housewife Jodie pivots toward her hot personal trainer. Together, the ladies discover that the journey toward happiness can be a sometimes rough, often awkward ride.

12 SINGLE DRUNK FEMALE

Thursdays beginning Jan. 20 on FREEFORM
NEW SERIES!

"I had one bad day that turned into a Class A misdemeanor [aka reckless assault]," tells 28-year-old alcoholic Samantha "Sam" Fink (Sofia Black-D'Elia) to her probation officer. That drunken workplace meltdown almost blinded her coworker and definitely solidified her termination from a New York media company. In this heartfelt 30-minute dramedy, Sam is forced to return to her Boston home and sober up to avoid jail time.

"I felt like I knew her. I felt like she was in my life already, and very familiar to me, and grounded but funny," Black-D'Elia tells us. "I felt like this was a girl who really takes it too far, and you should feel that when you watch it."

And you do. Her character's story is based on writer Simone Finch's real life. Challenging Sam's every attempt at sobriety are remnants of her old life, including her "smother" Carol (Ally Sheedy, in a very quirky and welcome return to TV).

"Simone did such a beautiful job of exploring the mother/daughter dynamic in a really real way with all of its complexities. We often think of these addiction stories as, as soon as you say you have a problem, everybody comes running to your aid," Black-D'Elia adds. "But the truth is that a lot of people who suffer from addiction have been @#$%heads to a lot of the people in their lives for a long time, and forgiveness isn't always that easy."

At its core, the series gives an honest yet lighthearted look at the struggles of alcoholism, dysfunctional families and friendship. – Barb Oates

AMERICAN AUTO

Tuesdays beginning Jan. 4 on NBC
NEW SERIES!

You know that awkward, unnerving feeling when your company announces a new CEO? No matter where you sit on that corporate ladder, you just never know if your job is secure. NBC's new laughter American Auto pokes fun at that terrifying transition along with all the kookiness of corporate culture. Creator Justin Spitzer follows up his successful Superstore, hilariously touching on hot topics companies typically try to stay clear of. SNL's Ana Gasteyer portrays Katherine, the brash new CEO of Detroit's Payne Motors, who doesn't know a thing about cars (heck, the lady can't even drive!) but relies heavily on her eccentric team of executives. Coming from a Big Pharma background, Katherine fumbles at almost every turn trying to save face and keep the business alive. Here we catch up with Gasteyer:

What excited you about playing Katherine?

Ana Gasteyer: What I love from a comedic standpoint is any time that somebody has to save face. She wants money, and she's very clear about the fact that she doesn't have particularly strong moral fibers. But she at the same time really wants to succeed, and she doesn't want people to see her as a failure. So, it's super fun just to play that balance all the time on the show.

Katherine previously led a Big Pharma company, so what if anything is she good at?

I definitely think she's very comfortable with authority, she's very comfortable with leading. CEOs are kind of ADD by nature, so you have to split tasks at an incredible pace and rate. I think she's probably pretty good at that at the end of the day. But she is in over her head, she does not know anything about cars, and that is a little bit of an overstep.

Can you give us a tease to an upcoming episode [this month] that you really like?

I feel like the show is about Americans being really bad about being good. Just trying to do the right thing, but not really effectively, because they are too conflicted by everything from greed to selfishness. And Episode 5 [Jan. 18] really, really, really gets right in the middle of that conversation about how companies put their money where their mouth is in terms of social causes and things like that. It's really fun.

Are you a car person?

I live in New York City, so by nature I just find cars annoying here. I'd much prefer to take the subway. It's faster and it's just more efficient, and I have more time to get stuff done. And I hate sitting in the back of a taxi or an Uber almost more than anything in the world because I get carsick. We own a car, but again because I live in New York, it's just something you forget about. So, I'm terrible. I don't really know the details.

Now, FOX dusts off that game plan and adds a twist. The new series features two single men (Steven and Kurt) – one's got money, the other doesn't; they both, however, are charmingly handsome. 15 ABBOTT ELEMENTARY
Tuesdays beginning Jan. 4 on ABC
NEW SERIES!

ABC's new comedy Abbott Elementary features the teachers at a Philadelphia public elementary school, based on the true stories experienced by star Quinta Brunson's mother, who taught in Philadelphia for 40 years. The series brings up major and minor issues plaguing teachers today, from flickering lightbulbs in the hallway to something as serious as the school-to-prison pipeline. In addition to providing laughs, Abbott Elementary also seeks to highlight the difficulties of being a teacher and encourage others to give them the assistance they need. It never aims to preach, but instead realistically shows what it's like to love what you do in a broken system.

LEAVE IT TO GEEGE

Wednesdays beginning Jan. 12 on LIFETIME
NEW SERIES!

Fans of Chrisley Knows Best will appreciate this new Southern-set docuseries following single mom Geege Taylor and her nonverbal 19-year-old son Pootie, along with their offbeat group of family and friends. The seemingly always positive Geege explains that her Athens, Georgia, gang is definitely more of a modern take on the traditional family than, say, Leave It to Beaver, from which the title was spun. "I feel like I'm just the ringmaster of the show, and everybody in my life kind of leans on me a little bit." Her crazy circus includes her son's caregiver Tyler, who lives with them, as well as her mother, daughter, extended family and friends. "I feel like all of these characters in my life kind of circulate around me and depend on me, and I mother all of them, and they keep me young. But they're also the village that help me bring up Pootie, because it's a lot to raise a son with autism, and Pootie is on the severe end of that spectrum. It's amazing to have this whole village of people come around me and help me lift him up and help me raise him." A breast cancer survivor who was divorced twice and is now sharing her bedroom with Pootie to monitor his seizures, Geege provides a beacon of hope and laughter to other families who have children with autism. "If I can help anybody, then I'm all in," she says. "I loved the idea of doing something positive, because when Pootie was first diagnosed there was hardly anything positive in the media about autism. It was all just kind of gloom and doom. It just got me down, and I wanted to see a change. ... I feel honored that I've gone through the things I've gone through, because I feel like it's just taken me to a greater place." — Barb Oates

AROUND THE WORLD IN 80 DAYS

Sundays beginning Jan. 2 on PBS

NEW SERIES!

Long before The Amazing Race, Jules Verne's classic 1873 novel Around the World in Eighty Days captured imaginations with a fictional depiction of a globetrotting race competition. This month, PBS' Masterpiece presents an innovative eight-episode adaptation of Verne's tale, a fun and colorful British-French coproduction that was shot on location on two continents and introduces new themes, characters and stories within the familiar main narrative.

David Tennant stars as Englishman Phileas Fogg, who, in 1872, bets a fortune that he can circumnavigate the planet in just 80 days. Joined by his sharp-witted new valet, Passepartout (Ibrahima Koma), and doggedly followed on his quest by reporter Abigail "Fix" Fortescue (Leonie Benesch), Fogg races against the calendar to complete his journey, encountering memorable characters and trying to overcome whatever obstacles that fate – or someone who may not want him to succeed – puts in his way.

Around the World in 80 Days has already been renewed for a second season, and its producers are also developing a series adaptation of another Verne classic, Journey to the Center of the Earth. – Jeff Pfeiffer

SNOWPIERCERMondays beginning Jan. 24 on TNT
SEASON PREMIERE!

The postapocalyptic thrill ride returns for Season 3 with some hope for a possible warm location to restart civilization. But the current uninhabitable frozen world really isn't the survivors' main problem.

When last we left the divided group, Layton (Daveed Diggs) and Ruth (Alison Wright) plotted to take back Snowpiercer from the unhinged and sadistic Mr. Wilford (Sean Bean). Melanie (Jennifer Connelly) made it back to the research station after the train passed her by, but it appears she didn't survive the elongated isolation. Layton and Alex (Rowan Blanchard) are now on the 10-car pirate train, while Ruth got stuck with Wilford, leaving us very, very concerned. Here we catch up with Wright to get insights into her character's predicament.

In Season 3, where do we pick up with Ruth?

Alison Wright: Well, we pick up with a little bit of a time jump when we begin Season 3, and we'll see the new world that she's existing in. Of course, she's stuck on the train that she does not want to be on with her frenemy, Kevin, who she electrocuted with a cattle prod, and Mr. Wilford, who she has completely betrayed. And because, well, she knows everybody else is on that pirate train, so when we start we find her a few months down the line, and we'll see her existing as best she can and trying to stay hidden from Mr. Wilford.

What do you think would be her smartest move when it comes to surviving this?

All we know is that the trains have split and that one train is, so far, it looks good that they're going to manage to find Melanie and hopefully life. And we don't really know what the situation is going to be on the main train Snowpiercer. I think that it would be hard to imagine Ruth would be able to snuggle back up to Mr. Wilford at this point, but you never know. I think she's been pretty seriously disillusioned by him and very disappointed by him not being the hero that she thought he was. So I can't imagine she would be able to, but maybe she'll be forced to stay in his good graces. We shall have to see.

And what about the Teals (the Hospitality team)? Are we still going to see you in the Teals?

The Teals are still around. I mean, she missed getting on that pirate train because of the Teals. It's the only reason she's not on that train, but that shows her love for the Teals, her love for the uniform, her love for the life that she thought she had, the person she thought she was. She missed that train because she couldn't give that up. — Barb Oates

Sneak Peek! This Season 3 preview pic shows us Ruth may be in for a rough time.

THIS IS US

Tuesdays beginning Jan. 4 on NBC

SEASON PREMIERE!

Here's something to cry about: This is the end for This Is Us. The time-jumping, heartstring-tugging and often mind-blowing drama about the Pearson family begins its sixth and final season of 18 episodes. Creator Dan Fogelman had the show's endgame in mind for some time and had been writing stories set well into the future, which would explain the apparent five-year flash forward in the Season 5 finale. The "Big 3" – Kevin (Justin Hartley), Kate (Chrissy Metz) and Randall (Sterling K. Brown) – celebrate their 41st birthdays in the Season 6 premiere. Fans will hopefully find out why Kate is married to Phillip (Chris Geere) instead of Toby (Chris Sullivan); who Kevin's in love with now; and how Rebecca (Mandy Moore) has dealt with Alzheimer's.

22 THE AMAZING RACE

Wednesdays beginning Jan. 5 on CBS

SEASON PREMIERE!

Knowing the race is such a logistical challenge even without a global pandemic, we can't even begin to imagine just how difficult it was to complete this season. After suspending production in early 2020 due to the pandemic, the race officially resumed in September 2021. CBS chartered a special plane – adorned with The Amazing Race logo on its side – to keep racers safe and transport them to some locations. Teams were not announced as of presstime, but originally Love Island couple Ray and Caro were the familiar faces on the race. Whether they returned after filming resumed, knowing they broke up, is not known. What is known is host Phil Keoghan is back for the competition series' 33rd season, where he promised brand-new locations and new challenges!

SEASON PREMIERE!

The first half of the fourth and final season of the hit crime drama Ozark hits Netflix nearly two years after Season 3 debuted. Last season's explosive finale featured a cremation, violent confrontations, arrests, deaths and the end of business relationships, resulting in a dramatic repositioning of the criminal endeavors of Marty (Jason Bateman) and Wendy Byrde (Laura Linney). The Byrdes will have to balance running their casino in Missouri with an enhanced partnership with the Mexican drug cartel they have been laundering money for. Will they get away with it or pay a price for their life of crime? Each half of Season 4 consists of seven episodes; the second half will be released later in the year. Cast members Julia Garner, Charlie Tahan, Felix Solis and Lisa Emery all return.

SEASON PREMIERE!

The groundbreaking comedy that challenged viewpoints, sparked meaningful conversations and launched an -ish franchise will go out in style in its eighth and final season. "We are grateful along with ABC to be able to make this final season exactly what we'd hoped for – and to do it with the entire and amazingly stellar cast coming back," says creator Kenya Barris. Last seen, Boyz II Men serenaded Dre (Anthony Anderson) as he finally got a big promotion at the ad agency. Among the guest stars in Season 8 is former first lady Michelle Obama.

One more shot? Aaron Rodgers and the Green Bay Packers hope to get over the hump after losing two straight NFC title games.

GOING LONG

The NFL Playoffs Run A Deep Route Into Winter. By Ryan A. Berenz

After the NFL added more playoff teams last season and added another week to the regular season this year, football fans are about to find out if more is truly merrier.

The regular season wraps up Jan. 8-9 with Week 18 determining postseason participants and seeding. Expect the usual mix of playoff-bound teams resting their players and teams on the bubble going full-bore in an effort to play football instead of golf the following weekend.

In the AFC, top playoff hopefuls include the Baltimore Ravens, New England Patriots, Tennessee Titans, Kansas City Chiefs, Cincinnati Bengals and Buffalo Bills. Likely playoff participants in the NFC are the Arizona Cardinals, Green Bay Packers, Dallas Cowboys, L.A. Rams and the defending Super Bowl champion Tampa Bay Buccaneers.

The playoffs kick off on wild-card weekend with two games Saturday, Jan. 15, three games Sunday, Jan. 16, and one game on Monday, Jan. 17. AFC and NFC wild-card games have the No. 2 seed hosting the No. 7 seed, No. 3 hosting No. 6 and No. 4 hosting No. 5. (The No. 1 seed has a bye.) CBS and NBC air two wild-card games each, with ESPN/ABC and FOX each airing one.

Divisional playoffs are Jan. 22-23 on CBS, FOX and NBC, followed by the conference championships Sunday, Jan. 30, on CBS (AFC) and FOX (NFC).

After being canceled last season, the Pro Bowl is back on for Sunday, Feb. 6, at Allegiant Stadium in Las Vegas on ABC/ESPN.

The Super Bowl returns to Los Angeles for the first time since 1993 when Super Bowl LVI is played at SoFi Stadium in Inglewood, California, Feb. 13 on NBC.

ACROSS & DOWN

By Donna Pettman

DIRECTIONS

Rearrange the letters in each group to form a word. Place the words into the diagram so that the same words read both across and down. (The first word across is the same as the first word down and so on.) The letter groups are not necessarily placed next to the row of the diagram in which they go.

Hitch combines romance, mystery and atmospheric flourishes (like an eerie, glowing glass of milk, an effect achieved with a lightbulb inside a glass) to wring all the suspense he can out of this terrific thriller.
